

Position: Director for Communication and Media, full-time

The Southeastern California Conference is seeking a Director for Communication and Media to assist officers in visioning, developing, and implementing a comprehensive communication and media strategy for their territory. Pastoral ministry experience preferred.

The Southeastern California Conference is looking for someone who is passionate about telling the stories of God's activities in our churches, schools, lives of our members and the communities we serve, finds joy in connecting, engaging, networking, and collaborating with people and has demonstrated ability to embrace the diversity that is SECC. Additionally, this person would mentor and empower digital natives who are eager to serve the church through communication and media ministry and build a wide network of human resources.

Applicant should have an understanding and appreciation of the framework for ministry found in our local churches and schools.
